Cost of 12-core optical cable

Overview

This article aims to provide a detailed explanation of the pricing factors for 12 core optical cables.

Key Takeaways

A standard 12-core optical fiber cable typically costs between $1 and $6 per foot, depending on type, material, and additional features.Price Range

The cost of a 12-core optical cable varies based on several factors:

• Fiber Type: Single-mode (OS2) cables are generally cheaper, ranging from $0.09 to $1.52 per foot for bulk purchases, while multimode (OM3/OM4) cables cost more, typically $1.50 to $6.00 per foot due to higher manufacturing complexity and wider cores .

• Material Quality: High-quality glass fibers provide better performance and durability but are more expensive than plastic fibers. Protective coatings, strength members (like aramid yarn or fiberglass), and outer jackets (PVC or LSZH) also influence the price .

• Additional Features: Armored cables, LSZH jackets, or outdoor-rated cables increase costs. Armored cables can range from $1.15 to $6.50 per meter, providing protection against physical damage .
Retail vs Wholesale
• Wholesale bulk purchases: Lower per-foot costs, especially for large reels.

• Retail or pre-terminated assemblies: Higher costs due to factory termination and connectorization, which can add 20–30% to the material cost .
Practical Example

For a 12-core OM4 multimode cable:

• Indoor, standard jacket: Around $1–$2 per foot.

• Outdoor, armored, LSZH jacket: $2–$6 per foot, depending on length and vendor .
Key Considerations

When budgeting, consider:

• Installation environment: Underground or aerial runs may require additional protection and labor.

• Project scale: Larger projects often benefit from volume discounts.

• Long-term reliability: Investing in higher-quality fiber reduces maintenance and troubleshooting costs over time . In summary, a standard 12-core optical cable costs roughly $1–$6 per foot, with the final price influenced by fiber type, jacket material, armor, and whether the cable is pre-terminated or bulk.
