Key Takeaways

Gouda Holland B.V. and the Niedax Group are leading Dutch manufacturers of cable trays and elbows for industrial and marine applications.Gouda Holland B.V.

Gouda Holland, based in the Netherlands, specializes in cable ducts and trays suitable for light, medium, and heavy-duty applications. Their systems include continuous longitudinal slot perforations and integrated coupling connections, which allow for quick installation and sturdy construction. They offer a variety of fittings, including elbows, to route cables efficiently around corners in industrial, machine, skid, and marine installations. Materials include glass fiber reinforced polyester, which is UV, corrosion, and chemical resistant, and halogen-free, making it suitable for demanding environments .

Niedax Group

The Niedax Group, which includes Gouda Holland, provides a wide range of cable support systems and fittings. Their subsidiaries, such as Niedax EBO Systems, are global leaders in glass fiber reinforced plastic (GRP) cable trays. They offer customized solutions for complex industrial and energy projects, including elbows, bends, and other tray fittings. Their products are designed for quick assembly, durability, and compliance with EMC and safety standards, making them suitable for large-scale installations .
