1. Naficon (Dubai, UAE) Naficon Fiber Optic Manufacturing LLC in Dubai is a major supplier and manufacturer of fiber optic cables in the Middle East. They offer a wide range of products for telecom, data centers, and utility networks, including FTTH, broadband, and data center solutions. Naficon is ISO9001 certified and provides high-quality cables and accessories, along with technical support and training for installation and project execution . 2. Arabian Fiber (UAE) Arabian Fiber specializes in high-quality fiber optic solutions, including microduct, FTTH, ADSS, and armored cables. They focus on performance, reliability, and long-term durability, offering expert guidance and timely delivery for commercial and industrial projects. Their facilities are equipped with advanced manufacturing technology to ensure consistent quality . 3. Middle East Fiber Cable Manufacturing (MEFC, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia) MEFC is a Saudi-Japanese partnership that manufactures a wide range of fiber optic cables, including single-mode and multi-mode, indoor and outdoor, armored, aerial, and drop cables. They serve telecom, oil & gas, transportation, and government sectors across the MENA region. MEFC provides customized cable designs and ensures compliance with international standards such as ITU and IEC . 4. Other Notable Suppliers

• OWIRE: Offers indoor and outdoor fiber optic cables, FTTH, OPGW, armored and non-armored cables, as well as network cables like Cat5–Cat8. They are ISO9001:2015 certified and provide fast delivery in the UAE .

• ZAX Networks LLC: Supplies high-quality indoor and outdoor fiber optic cables, patch panels, media converters, and customized fiber patch cords, approved by regional authorities such as ADNOC and DEWA .
Considerations When Purchasing
• Cable Type: Determine whether you need single-mode, multi-mode, armored, or FTTH cables.

• Project Requirements: Check for compliance with international standards and certifications.

• Customization: Many suppliers offer custom lengths, fiber counts, and cable constructions.

• Support Services: Some manufacturers provide technical training, installation guidance, and after-sales support. These suppliers provide reliable options for purchasing fiber optic cables in the Middle East, with both local manufacturing and international quality standards.
